Telegrams.

(By Havas Agency)

Dublin, 14th—The Irish papers are very bitter regarding the arrest of John Dillon and William O'Brien. They state that it was illegal to arrest them from the moment they presented themselves demanding a fresh trial.

Madrid, Feb. 14th—The Cortes will re-open on Monday, March 2nd.

THE CHILIAN REVOLUTION.

DESTRUCTION OF PISAGUA.

Puente del Inca, 13th—After the bombardment, nothing remains of Pisagua but a heap of ruins. The city was burned to the ground. About 5000 people escaped by sea to Anca. Little news yet received, owing to cable being cut.

A telegram from Santiago states that on the morning of the 5th the steamer Luis Cousino, under the command of Captain Policarpo Toro, ex-commander of the Esmeralda, left Sota and made for the North, trying, like the Imperial, to elude the fleet. The steamer carried several pieces, the Angol battalion, and a company of the 1st of the Line. How she has fared is not yet known.

There are 5000 soldiers in all in Concepcion, Talcahuano and Coronel.

No news from Iquique, which must be a heap of ruins, after the terrible bombardment.

The revolutionists occupy Taltal.

The Linares and Copiapo Lyceums have been closed, owing to the professors having expressed revolutionary ideas. The Faculty of Medecine in Santiago has been closed for the same reason.

The British Minister has protested against the bombardment of Iquique. The Minister and Admiral Hotham, of the Warspite, were closeted yesterday. This vessel is going south, the Champion going north.

The Imperial, having landed men and arms in Tarapaca, has returned to Valparaiso. Her commander has been promoted.

Exchange 16¼ per cc.

The officers and crew for the Chilian war vessels in R. Plate waters have left overland and will pass through Mendoza.

The elections come off on the 1st prox, before which the revolutionists expect to have taken the provinces in the north and south.

Fifteen judges in Santiago and Valparaiso have been dismissed by order of Government.

The forts in Talcahuano are being mounted with Armstrong guns.

Eight hundred tons of coal are being received daily in Santiago by train from Lota.

Mendoza 13.—News has been received here of a fierce fight between Government troops and revolutionists in Tarapaca. The latter won the day.

Something serious has occurred in the south, but no particulars yet.

Montevideo, 13th—The departure of the three Chilian war vessels to B. Ayres has given rise to much conjecture and even alarm here. The wildest rumors are afloat. By some it is maintained that the commanders, hearing of the fall if Iquique feared the Esmeralda would steam for Montevideo and seize their vessels, for which reason they considered it safer to be in the South Basin in B. Ayres. Others maintain that the commanders have gone up to confer with the revolutionary committee in B. Ayres.

ARGENTINE GREENBACKS.

Two months having elapsed since Mr. Bowers proposed to Government his scheme for amending the currency it is now as completely forgotten as if it belonged to the Colonial epoch. Nevertheless, it had one good point, which counterbalanced a number of defects: it proposed to call in the present rotten currency and substitute Greenbacks. Nine tenths of our readers will at once say that the remedy would be worse than the disease, and that "clandestine issues" would necessarily be of frequent, perhaps monthly, occurrence.

In all proposals regarding the currency some risk is unavoidable, and we do not disguise from ourself the fact that by handing over to the Government the direct control of the currency we give the Cabinet Ministers a power that may be abused, to the great detriment of the public. But, this would be after all less dangerous than the actual system of placing millions of money in the hands of up-country managers whose ideas of banking are unsound.

It is an evil for the Government to have control of the currency, but this was found necessary during the War for the Union in the U. States. It is ten times a greater evil for the Government to have control of the banking business of a country; which did not take place in the U. States.

If we imitate the Yankees by adopting a Greenback currency instead of the shinplasters now in circulation we must make it a sine-qua-non that the Free Banks be at once closed, and that the total paper-currency of the Republic be fixed at 300 million dollars.

Whoever would expect that any conversion of this kind must materially improve the currency would be sadly disappointed. The Argentine dollar will never again be worth 2C pence. But it would check the currency in its decline, and give it a value that might be called fixed.

P. S.—We have just read an article in the Diario to the effect that Minister Lopez proposes a scheme similar to the above, except that the present currency would be redeemed at 40 per cent, by an issue of 100 or 120 million Greenbacks guaranteed by the Treasury.

ARGENTINE TRADE RETURNS.

We have before us ths returns for 1890 compared with those of 1889, and in order to institute a proper comparison we must consider first the quantities.

The first item in the imports is "live animals," such as horses, sheep and cows, for the improvement of breeds: we find a lamentable decline, from 11,640 animals in 1889 to 2,020 in 1890. This is very significant, and shews that the best industry in the country is neglected, a conclusion which is unhappily confirmed by the fact that the importation of wire for fencing has fallen from 39,000 to 10,100 tons.

The second item of importance is sugar, the receipts of which have fallen 4,000 tons, that is about 12 per cent. of the quantity imported in 1889. On the other hand there is an increase in tea, coffee, yerba and rice; while there is a heavy fall in wine and oil, two articles of primary necessity, the fall being from 20 to 30 per cent. We imported 4,400,000 gallons less of wine than in 1889, a fact that must tell seriously in the increased death-rate.

There is certainly an increase of 500 tons in malt, indicating a corresponding rise of 20 per cent. in the consumption of beer, but it is well to bear in mind that wine in hot climates is a more healthy drink than beer. Moreover, some of the dreadful liquors made in the country, as new Argentine industries, are the most deadly concoctions ever made by any evil-disposed person, and these have taken the place of good wine.

The importation of iron and steel in bars has fallen from 59,000 tons in 1889 to 4,000 in 1890, a circumstance that tells more than any other the terrible effects of the crisis. It is not surprising, then, to see that the imports of pine have declined 50 per cent. The number of ploughs has fallen from 39,500 to 26,800; that of sewing-machines from 22,000 to 13,000. As if in sympathy, the importation of coal has declined 14,000 tons, or something over 20 per cent.

Thus at the very time Pres. Celman told Congress that the Republic was most prosperous the trade and industry of the country were running down rapidly. There is, meantime, a slight increase in the weight of dry goods imported, namely 26,700 tons against 25,400 in the preceding year. But we observe a fall of 30 per cent in books, the imports being 200 tons under those of 1889.

The value of imports has not appeared to decline so much as their volume: the total for 1890 being 142 millions currency, against 165 millions in 1889. This indicates a decline of only 15 per cent, but it would be a fallacy to suppose this was the real fall. There was an increase of 15 millions in railway materials, not properly belonging to the trade of the country. Moreover, if we reduce values to gold we find that the imports of 1890 amounted to £11,400,000, as compared with £18,200,000 in 1889, a fall of 40 per cent.

Turning to exports, we find the quantities thus:—

	1889	1890
Wool, lbs.	312,000,000	260,000,000
Sheepskins, do.	80,000,000	59,000,000
Frozen mutton, tons	16,500	20,400
Linseed, tons	28,200	30,700
Maize "	450,000	710,000
Wheat "	24,000	326,000
Tallow "	18,500	17,400
Cowhides, No.	3,500,000	4,300,000

Sheepfarming seems to be suffering very much, the export of wool having fallen 52,000,000 pounds, that of sheepskins 21,000,000, pounds. There is a small increase in the export of frozen mutton, but the total shipments are relatively trifling, only 20,400 tons in 1890, not quite enough to feed Birmingham.

Cowhides shew an increase of 800,000, which may be partly owing to heavy mortality among horned cattle. Tallow continues to decline.

The hopeful feature in this table, according to the views of Argentine economists, is the increase of grain exports, the quantity shipped last year exceeding one million tons. We cannot think that any increase of agricultural products will compensate for the decline in pastoral industry.

The total value of exports was 100 million dollars, against 90 millions in 1889. We have some doubts as to the mode of assessing values, but there can be no doubt that the fall in the export of wool and sheepskins is a very bad feature.

THE CLIMAX.

It is an old adage that "when things come to the worst they begin to mend." Many people think that we have now reached the bathos of commercial and financial misery, and that in three months the Republic will again be on the high road to prosperity. Nothing can be easier than to say that it is so; but in reality there is no reason to hope for so favorable a turn of affairs.

We have not yet reached the climax. Things are still on the downward march, and the pessimists, however odious, are truth-tellers. If you listen to the optimists you may find it very pleasant, but the result will show that their promises are illusory. They have done an incalculable amount of injury to the Republic.

Is there, then, no silver lining to the cloud? Is the Argentina beyond all hope? By no means. As soon as things become so bad that the people and the Government unanimously agree that the present course must end in ruin we may expect a very healthy improvement. It is not politics, it is not imposts, that cause our deep affliction. It is simply a question of currency. The country is perfectly sound (except as regards Cedulas and public debt) and if any serious effort were made to put the currency on a proper footing the first great step towards re-construction would be accomplished.

Argentines seem to lose sight of the fact that the currency is a matter one hundred times more important than the foreign debt. As soon as gold reaches 400 it may be considered the climax, and then it will be incumbent on the Government to convert the currency at 12 pence to the dollar and to postpone every other consideration, at whatever cost.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Jan. 17, 1891.

The question of European disarmament, that has been rather sprung upon a congealed public, is regarded as simply a political "amusette." Only M. Paul Déroulède, the representative of extinct Boulangism, views the matter as serious, since he has published a pamphlet about it. He tells readers nothing new, forces open doors by recapitulating the money wasted and the vital forces of nations dissipated by the maintenance of bloated armaments. But he suggests no solution, and that is what taxpayers and philanthropists only want to know. As soon as nations have all their ambitions satisfied, and their rival interests reconciled, then the disbanding of armies and navies may be commenced. But that moment will be coeval with the millennium, when congresses, conferences and caucuses will have no more "raison d'être." Give Russia Constantinople and Persia; France, Alsace, the Rhine and Egypt; Spain, Morocco and Portugal; Italy, Tunisia, Kassala and the irredentist claims on Austria; Germany, Syria, Denmark, Holland and the Vistula provinces of Russia; and Uncle Sam a free hand to pan-Americanise the two continents of America—all this accomplished, the question of disarmament is settled in advance.

The Chambers have re-assembled, and the session promises to be practical and business-like. M. Floquet, on being next to unanimously elected president of the Lower House, delivered, in returning thanks, a programme speech, and which, for his neutral position, has been paid the unusual honour of being ordered to be placarded all over France. This means striking off one million copies, and an expenditure of 25,000 francs at least. The posters do no good in the way of acting on public opinion. Some of a kindred nature, by ex-Ministers, and now three years old, are still visible on many hoardings. M. Floquet, in all his allocution, has urged upon the Deputies the necessity of working; of handling fiscal reforms, so long lying in the pigeon-holes of the Good Intentions department; of voting a tariff customs which, while protecting the real interests of the country, will not be utilised to promote the fortunes of a private few—as a hit at the French McKinleyites—and that, while a hearty welcome and an open door should be placed at the disposital of all who desire to rally to the present form of government, these facilities ought not to be availed of by false converts to enter, Trojan-horse like, into the citadel.

Many view this speech as a bid for the first vacancy in the premiership. That may not after all be very distant. M. de Freycinet is of late frequently "confined to his room." M. Floquet's followers are hungry for office, and conclude they have been a sufficiently long time out in the cold, and deprived of the loaves and fishes of office. M. de Freycinet's cabinet gives general satisfaction, but that is no reason it should be allowed to become a fixture.

As a war minister, as a functionary who will see no soldier's gaiter to want a button, a reality, M. de Freycinet is accepted unanimously as the right man in the right place, but they are the "lobbyists," not the public, who make and unmake cabinets.

M. Floquet would have two serious rivals for the premiership, M. Rouvier and his own relative M. Jules Ferry. The former is a capable finance minister, but has no grip on parliamentarians and commands no group; he runs well in the state coach, and never kicks in harness. The latter is still young as an old political resurrectionist and requires a little legislative rest to smoothen his plumage, ruffled during his short absence from public life, and to regain step in the political movement of the "Salle des Pas Perdus." His future is certain. The competition for the premiership is henceforth keener, as it is the main credential for the Presidency of the Republic.

The first important fiscal reform will be the augmentation by 50 per cent of the tax on alcohol, and the abolition of all imposts on wine, beer and cider. Next on the roster is the lowering of transport rates on the railways for passengers and goods. These so hinge on the coming budget that they must be disposed of at once. The revision of the Customs' Tariff is still in the doctoring and the patch-work stage. The protectionists are growing bolder in their fixing of import dues; this is a red-rag for the wine and silk interests, all free traders, but the latter have so dwindled or melted away that they have no legislative weight. However, a third or nondescript party is emerging into light whose members are neither enraged protectionists nor doctrinaire free traders. Their numbers or power cannot be gauged till the revised tariff bill is deposited by the Committee on the table of the House, when the formal discussions and votings will take place. The Customs' Commission by its proposed high duties and system of draw-back compensations will create no little confusion among native industries, and antagonism and reprisals among foreign states. There is gradually passing over the deliberations of the tariff revisionists the shadow of that unknown factor—a Zollverein between Great Britain and the Colonies. Difficult as the tying of the fagots may be, the French do not range it among the impossibilities, still less in the distant future, as they are mindful how rapidly the agitation for Imperial Federated defence spread and succeeded. The French are complaining that Tonkin and Annam, despite differential duties, are positively flooded with English goods.

Had the deceased Baron Haussmann anticipated that his funeral would have been engineered into a Bonapartist manifestation, he would have discountenanced such in his last will and testament. It was after all so silly to display in the Lutheran church where the funeral service took place, and in Père La Chaise cemetery—where the inhumation was made, the tricolor surmounted with the Imperial Eagle. The Government very sensibly has turned its blind eye to a flag manifestation that was believed to be the appanage and the monopoly of the communists and the anarchists. Baron Haussmann, who has died at the advanced age of 82, and only a few days after his wife, his equal in years, was not a militant Bonapartist. He had a positive cult for Napoleon III, and the latter was not at all venerated by his bosom friends. The once Cæsar of Paris had only one aim under the Second Empire, to re-construct the capital, after the plans left years ago by M. Rambuteau, Prefect of the Seine, under Louis Philippe. He died a poor man, and since 1870, when his sovereign disappeared, his sole income was derived from his wife's modest fortune, and what he was paid as a guinea-pig in a few companies. His immense salary as Prefect he expended, beside special extravagrancies, to maintain the splendors of his office. His fêtes at the Hotel de Ville live in history. He was an honest man too; during his reign of some 18 years he made a new Paris; not less than six milliard francs passed through his hands, but he never was reproached with personally misappropriating one centime. 'Tis' true he left Paris saddled with a balance of 600 million francs for unachieved improvements. But have not Parisians been provided with the most beautiful and most modern of capitals, where all the dwellers from beyond Mesopotamia come to reside or for rest, for pleasure, or for study? They cannot have their cake and eat it. Besides, municipal scrip is ranked as the safest of all safe public funds in France; it is with it that prudent fathers compose the "dot" for their daughters. Paris is rich too, and has a revenue of 150 million francs a year.

While on Bonapartism, the rumor runs that Prince Napoleon, an avowed free-thinker, is not only on the high road to return to the Catholic Church, but to enter a monastery. After his agitated life and the sterility of his prospects—or those of his antagonistic son, Prince Victor—of regaining the thorny crown of France, such a termination is quite possible. He has nothing to lose and everything to gain. Politically, he is long since dead; the least he could individually do was to prepare his religious funeral. And permit me to make this passing allusion to the "fashion"—to employ its baldest expression—for public personages, reputed and known in their lives as materialists—indifferentists would be the proper word—to be buried with all the formalities of Christians.

A smart discussion is taking place respecting the prudence of the Opera in resolving to bring out Wagner's "Lohengrin." Patriotic or Chauvinistic feeling is still as strong as when it compelled M. Lamouroux to withdraw that opera from the Eden theatre. Another patriotic manifestation against Orleanism too has originated from the Duc de Nemours, the eldest son of Louis Philippe, consenting to his grand-daughter marrying a German, Prince Louis of Bavaria.

M. Jules Ferry has been appointed President of the Colonial Expansion Society, and justly so. He is the man for Galway.

THE SAN NICOLAS AND JUNIN RAILWAY.

(Communicated.)

This is not a railway commencing at the North Pole and ending in La Plata, or starting from Buenos Aires and finishing on Jules Verne's South Pole mountains, or crossing the River Plate by huge bridges to connect Buenos Ayres and Montevideo by a quarter of an hour's express. No; it is nothing but a miniature railway connecting a rising port with some prosperous inland towns. I mean Messrs. Schweikart and Co.'s concession granted by the Provincial legislators at La Plata.

The line will start from the port of San Nicolas, cross over to "Arrecifes," thence to Salto, and finish at Chacabuco, with a branch from Salto to Junin. The total line will not measure more than about 225 kilometres or 141 miles, and is only a chicken as compared to some of the recent gigantic proposals.

The proposed railway will start from San Nicolas, a town of 24,630 inhabitants, and not only a rising port, but also one of the first of this Republic, only surpassed by Buenos Aires and Rosario.

The export of 1889 stands as follows:—

Frozen meat	3,789 Tons
Sheepskins	1,425 "
Wool	8,604 "
Cowhides	18,400 hides
Maize	106,502 tons
Linseed	2,386 "
Hay	2,576 "

According to the official report, the value of this export is set down at $7,328,288.

San Nicolas derives all this valuable produce from the surrounding districts through which the proposed line will run.

Let me take from the agricultural statistics of 1890 some items, as follows:—

Agriculture per hectareas.	Maize.	Wheat.
San Nicolas	9,310	346
Arrecifes	10,828	1,795
Ramallo	16,840	1,119
Junin	11,444	12,283
Rojas	7,839	4,583
Salto	1,303	—
Chacabuco	18,517	13,532
Pergamino	17,228	7,090
Total	92,949	40,748

This shews what a grain traffic will fall to the new railway. It is likewise interesting to study the live stock.

Live Stock, 1890:—

	Cows.	Sheep.
Chacabuco	73,446	640,578
Arrecifes	56,141	845,087
Ramallo	15,096	248,410
San Nicolas	94,314	156,591
Junin	119,667	226,085
Rojas	187,361	458,477
Salto	104,573	703,033
Pergamino	104,626	744,623
Total	755,224	4,022,884

As railways, however, do not exist upon goods traffic alone, but also carry passengers, it will be worth while to count the population:

San Nicolas	24,000
Pergamino	22,000
Rojas	9,000
Ramallo	6,000
Arrecifes	8,000
Chacabuco	13,000
Salto	6,000
Junin	8,000
Total	96,000

San Nicolas boasts of 2 banks, two steam-mills, four barracas with moles unto the port, one freezing establishment with landing-mole, and two saladeros.

The country is perfectly level, and only crosses one river of importance, the Rio Arrecifes. This can be spanned by a bridge of easy construction.

W.

CARNIVAL IN MAR DEL PLATA.

(From a Correspondent.)

A large crowd of pleasure-seekers left for this pleasant retreat on Saturday last, so much so that the ordinary night-train was not sufficient to hold them, and another had to be dispatched within half an hour afterwards. At least three hundred first class passengers were booked, and every one arrived safe, without the slightest accident or even hitch of any kind. The result was that no accommodation was to be had in the ordinary hotels, and it was amusing to see coaches full of people driving about from one hotel to another till almost two o'clock in the afternoon. Amongst the fashionable crowd that have been staying there lately the following have been noticed:—

Revd. Mr. Pelham Ogle, Dr. Roberts, Dr. Watkins, Messrs. Alexander, Ballantyne, Barfield, A. P. Bell, Bowen, E Brown, J. P. Clarke, Cowes, Crowther, Curry, De Candia, Gibson, Goodman, Hamilton, Hickey, Hopson, H. Kelly, Livingstone, Loveday, Mackinnon, Murphy, Norton, Pasman, Prodgers, A Ramsay, Richards, Taylor, H. Van Deurs, Walker, Wood, etc.—and I was nearly forgetting—Mr. M. J. Byrne.

There were six hundred people in the Bristol alone, principally Argentine families, and including General Roca, Señor Carballido, Dr. L. Saenz Peña, Dr. Donovan, etc; the last of whom it appears went down with the express object of putting a stop to the gambling. Not satisfied with stopping all play in the hotel, except 'baccarat,' he even went down to the beach, incontinently shut up all the dens, and in one case put the ball in his pocket; but half an hour after he left in the train on Sunday evening the ivory was rolling as merrily as ever. Indeed, the scene in the roulette room of the Bristol is worthy of Monte Carlo. Two long tables are spread with eager gamblers gathered around; twenty, fifty or hundred dollar "fichas" are scattered about on the different squares or numbers, apparently without order or method, till suddenly interrupted by the "nada mas—negro—veinte-cinco" as the case may be; and then the "croupiers" scrape up all the counters on the table except, of course, those on the lucky number, which wins so much in proportion to the chances. It may be demoralising, but, if men must gamble, perhaps this is as good a way as any; and, in my humble opinion, it is not much worse than betting on race-horses or on the price of gold, and it is certainly a much honester method of making a living for the proprietor than by starting bogus—companies, or speculating in rotten shares with other people's money.

There is, probably, no finer spectacle in South America than the "comedor" of the Bristol at the welcome dinner hour. Six hundred people in evening-dress and flimsy 'toilettes,' in all the glare of diamonds and electric light, sit down together at a number of small tables, which glisten with damask, and crystal, and silver plate, supporting a sparkling assortment of wines and tropical fruits, and a merry succession of kickshaws. The waiters move about as silently and as noiselessly as if they were Automata, and the hum of conversation is only interrupted at intervals by the mimic explosions of soda and champagne. Then about nine everyone retires to the saloon to listen to the strains of Ismael's band, as few ever think of dancing, till at half past ten the young men mysteriously disappear from lolling about the doors, and the married, after seeing their wives safely housed, retire to smoke a cigar in the privacy of the gaming-table.

However the carnival was very good, and the "corso" was illuminated with electric light. 'Pomitos' were allowed by municipal ordicance, but water throwing of any kind was strictly prohibited. A four-in-hand or two paced up and down with about a dozen carriages; and Mr Carlos Luro created some amusement by endeavouring to drive a tandem, the horses of which seemed to be under a totally different impression as to the direction they were expected to take. Trees had grown up during the night on each side of the "corso" in a most surprising manner; and the principal streets were gay with bunting, which, with the procession of the different "mascaras", delighted the eye, somewhat as the squirt of a "pomo" occasionally delighted the ear. On the afternoon of Monday, just before the "corso" mummery began, I happened to be eye-witness of a curious scene, which may be worth relating, as showing forth the idea of law and order prevalent amongst our upper circles. It was, as already mentioned, strictly prohibited to throw water during the carnival, notwithstanding which, I was surprised to find about a dozen "jovenes distinguidos," on top of the one-storied roof of an inn, busily engaged in squirting water on the 'corso' beneath, from two large brass syringes that sent a parabola of water over every decorated carriage that passed. Coppers were also thrown on the footh-path below, so that when the little Arab-boys crowded together in the chase, bucketfuls of water came down from above, deluging them all over. Even a sedate member of the Government who went by got his share like the rest; so that the crowd below soon began to protest loudly, and at last some spirited lad or boy threw a stone at the "jovenes!" About half a dozen of these immediately descended—one armed with a billiard-cue, another with a knife, and the editor of a paper in Buenos Aires, with fire in his eyes and an empty Vermouth-bottle in his hand. For some reason or other they singled out a respectable-looking Italian, with close-cropped hair and a waist of such liberal proportions that the poor man would probably be unable even to lift a stone from the ground, much less to throw it. One proceeded to attack him in front with the thick end of a billiard cue, and when the assailed naturally took out his revolver to defend himself, two others of the gilded youth wrenched the weapon out of his hand, and held him firmly by each arm, while one of the "upper ten" young men of Buenos Ayres came up behind and gave the unfortunate victim a chop on the top of the head with a knife, and then a gash under the left eye, when the man turned round to see who it was attacked him. The Comisario immediately came up and all went in to a neighbouring inn, when the evidence of the young men proved conclusively—that they had been attacked by a ruffianly crowd, while innocently playing with "pomitos;" that they did not lay hands in any way on the wounded man; that the "heridas" of the latter were of ancient date (though the blood was still streaming down his face and beneath his linen collar)—the result of all being, that the "jeunesse dorée" went back to their friends in the Bristol to relate their deeds of prowess, and the ill-used payer of taxes got locked up in jail, and put "incomunicado!"

ROMAY IRON MINES.

Mr. Editor,

Referring to your correspondent F.H.M's gushing article on the above subject in your issue of yesterday, intending investors would do well to pause and have the following points carefully investigated before rushing into a business of which neither they nor probably the promoters of the "valuable and patriotic enterprise" have any practical experience whatever.

1.—Can an ore, yielding 42 or even 48 o/o of iron, be considered a valuable or workable mineral?

2.—Can the fuel for smelting be obtained at anything like a price that will pay, taking into account cost of cutting, transport to works, etc., which latter item must increase year after year as the source of supply recedes from the works? Also even a 20 years supply of fuel is not sufficient to guarantee the erection of furnaces and costly plant; if the mineral in the raw state resembles the Spanish Ore, then the "unmistakable proofs of coal" found by the intelligent engineer referred to in your correspondent's letter are worth nothing whatever.

3.—Where is the "limestone" indispensable as a flux to separate the impurities from the iron in the process of smelting to be obtained from?

4.—In all Iron Smelting Works a very large quantity of good "Fireclay" is necessary, not only for making fire-bricks to line the furnaces, hot blast ovens, etc., but also for every day use in the working of the furnaces.

5.—Good 'Land' in which to mould beds for running the molten iron into, in form of ingots, must be procurable within easy distance of the works.

It is praiseworthy to note the enthusiasm with which any new industry, supposed to tend to the advancement and progress of the country, is supported by the sons of the soil and the general public, especially if it has a Government guarantee, (of doubtful value to-day); but it is much to be feared that it will not be through the medium of either iron or coal "del pais" that the present high rate of the more precious metal will be lowered.

Hoping you will find room in your paper for these few observations from one who has had several years practical and theoretical experience in one of the largest Iron Works in Britain.

I remain, Dear Sir,
Yours truly,
Irony.

'IN DARKEST ENGLAND."

Mr. Editor,

I noticed in one of the late issues of your paper that an assertion was made to the effect that Mr. Stead was the author and writer of "Darkest England," and not General Booth as is generally supposed.

I herewith enclose you a cutting in which Mr. Stead emphatically denies his authorship in connection with this book.

As to the motive of those who at tribute the authorship of this book first to one and then to another I do not care to enquire—suffice it to say that General Booth is the author and writer of "Darkest England," and which, I sincerely hope, will have the desired effect of bringing deliverance to thousands of our poor and unfortunate countrymen.

Believe me,
Yours very sincerely,
Alfred Benwell,
Private Secretary to Major Barritt.

"The Rev. C. F. Aked has received the following letter from Mr. W. T. Stead on the subject of General Booth's book:—I cannot write to you as you wish me to write to you, but I can tell you the exact facts, which you can make use of if you deem it advisable. The book 'In Darkest England' is General Booth's book; the idea of the book was entirely his own. He conceived the title, and he set to work at writing it all by himself. He had accumulated a considerable mass of material when the illness of his wife, and the impossibility of getting the matter compressed within the proper bounds led him to issue a cry of distress to me. He asked me if I could get him a literary hack who would lick his material into shape, and get the book out in time. I said, 'I will do your hack-work myself,' and I did.

"I have no wish to be mentioned in connection with my share any more than the printer or the bookbinder is. It was amply sufficient reward to have a hand in getting so noble a deliverance into type. I feel this all the more strongly because I had been urging upon General Booth for years to go on this track."

Railway Items.

The Minister of the Interior has approved Messrs. John G. Meiggs, Son and Co's. contract for the construction of a railway from Pilar to Campana.

The local board of the Pacific Railway have sent Government the account of guarantee due on the Villa Mercedes—Villa Mercedes section for the half-year ending 31st proximo. The amount is £80,928 13s 3d.

The Port Works contractors have purchased from Mr. H. Ford material for a hundred and twenty-five metres of tramway and two trollies for the luggage deposits of the South Basin.

We take the following notes from the Rio News:—

A telegram to the Correio do Povo, published on the 18th, states that the employees of the S. Paulo railway company had applied for increased pay, because of the increased cost of living and of house rent.

From February 1st the Paulista railway company will make considerable reductions on the tariff cost of passages, varying from 30 per cent. on certain first-class tickets to 6 per cent. on certain of the second-class. It is to be hoped that the tariff for goods will not be overlooked.

Accidents are getting alarmingly frequent on the S. Paulo railways. Besides those elsewhere recorded, we note one on the English road near Pilar in which a man was severely hurt, and one on the Mogyana road, near Jaguary, in which serious injury was done to a one-year old child.

The Southern Railway figures for last December were:—

	$
Receipts	607,865.64
Expenses	399,153.56
Nett	208,712.08

The kilometrege was 9,038,254 for coaches and waggons, and 327,261 for locomotives.

The Minister of the Interior issued the decree to-day opening to service the section of the Transandine Railway between Mendoza and the Uspallata station. Within six months the Company must finish any works not yet done and which have been approved by the Department of Engineers. The Company can fix its own tariff both for passengers and cargo for the next two years. The maximum velocity of the trains between kilometres 0 and 32 must not exceed 25 kilometres per hour, and from this point to the Uspallata station not over 20 kilometres per hour.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week ended rather mildly yesterday, after all its previous excitement. Nevertheless Dame Rumor had quite a lot to say, and some of her talk was what her admired sex call "perfectly ridiculous."

We come to bury Carnival, not to praise it. To-day the Saturnalia will wind up in the usual way: balls at the clubs; a demi-semi Corso in those unfashionable thoroughfares Buen Orden and Moreno; all sorts of fun at the Tigre, San Fernando, Moron and other fashionable suburbs; balls in the Politeama and Nacional theatres, and a generally grateful feeling that the foolery is over for another year.

Quite a crowd assembled at the Darsena yesterday to see the Chilian war vessels enter; they are smart looking craft. The Admiral Brown entered Dock One.

We are truly sorry to learn that Dr. Jose Manuel Estrada lies very ill at Montevideo. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

We are requested to remind members of the Choral Union that the rehearsals will be resumed to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock sharp, in the "La France" Hall.

The insurance offices in Montevideo have of late had more blazes than they bargained for. There is a a fire almost daily, and always a fat insurance on the premises.

The National Labour Office wants 530 hands, mostly in the bucolic line we believe.

The latest news from booming Brazil is that the Finance Minister has jumped off the State Coach, as the financial pace is getting so hot that he sees a bad upset for the vehicle not very far ahead on the road. Wise man.

It is announced officially that Mr Gaudencio Cortes has withdrawn all the accusations he recently made against the Governor of Misiones. He declares that he was made the instrument of parties who wished to force the Governor, General Rudecindo Roca, to resign, as he prevented them completing some job in lands, begun under the Juarez regime.

The Mission which was announced to be opened by the Passionist Fathers in Giles to-day has been postponed till Sunday, March 1st. The good Fathers have arranged for a Mission to open in the Capilla del Señor on the 1st Sunday of April.

We hear the most bitter news about that sweet and indispensable article, sugar. The wretched Tucuman stuff is at the same price now as the best imported article, and the grocers say the latter will soon cost one dollar per kilo!

Compania Primitiva
DE
Gas de Buenos Aires.

Rebaja de Precios,

En virtud de las reformas realizadas en la fabrica de esta compañia, que le permiten elaborar una cantidad mucho mayor de gas de la que antes producia, el directorio ha resuelto hasta nuevo aviso fijar el precio del gas del modo siguiente que regira desde el 1° de Febrero proximo.
Por metro cubico $0.225.
Por impuesto municipal $0.004—Son 0.23 pesos el metro cubico.
Para consumidores de cierta importancia haremos un descuento en relacion al consumo.
No duda el directorio que dada la calidad del gas que fabrica esta compañia, cuya intensidad de luz es siempre superior al tipo oficial de 20 velas, el publico se penetrara de la gran ventaja que tiene en usarlo.
Si hasta ahora hemos cobrado el precio de 25 centavos por metro cubico, es porque nuestros elementos de produccion no nos permitian dar abasto a todos los pedidos; hoy, a pesar de las malas circunstancias por el alto precio del oro, lo expenderemos a 23 centavos incluso en este precio el impuesto municipal, contando con que el aumento de consumo nos compensara la rebaja que hacemos en favor de nuestros numerosos clientes

Licitacion.
We the undersigned as agents at the S.S. "San Nicolas" wish to certify, that the very serious damages received by this vessel in collision with the ship "Amazon" were made good in the workshops of Felipe Schwarz to our complete satisfaction in the short space of 5 days.
The intelligence and energy shown in carrying out the work was such, that we cordially recommend this house for any class of repairs connected with shipping.
The resources of this establishment have proved to be second to none in the Republic.

THE DIPPING SEASON.

Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—

"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their "History is the way that the Old-fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders" so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "a breast of the times."
"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—
"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loose "Powders," to fly about.
"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders," "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased. "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

Saturday, February 14th.

There was a rather more hopeful feeling in the market this morning, owing to the London telegram of yesterday with the Times article on the loan, and also the rumour that cash gold sales would be quoted on 'Change. Gold dropped to 345, but the small buyers for ready gold for the exchange shops came in and bought freely, and gold at once bounded back to 347.50–348, closing in the evening at 347. It would seem that politics greatly affect our market, as we have exchange on London up to 49d. and on Paris at 5.15 gold, and a large shipment of two million of Cedulas, mostly P, to London, and yet the market shews not the slightest improvement. The private banks are doing a very splendid business in exchange, drawing at low rates over the counter and taking at very high rates; and some idea may be formed of what is doing in exchange when we state that last week parties made £20 a day on every thousand pounds exchange they took in paper from the National Bank. The share market was as dull as it well could be, and National Bank shareholders felt very uneasy as they saw the quotations closing in a fainting state at 82.50 having opened in the morning at 88.50. It seems that the balance sheet has caused a most unfavorable impression, and, until some items are satisfactorily explained, there will be no confidence in the stock. Thus many ask what the item 34,000,000 in bonds really represents, at what figure they are set down, whether they are Cedulas or provincial bonds, and if they bear any interest. This should be cleared up immediately, and the exact market value of the bonds set forth. Catalinas closed dull at 16.60 and Constructors at 11.40.

Mr. Arthur Gibson, the popular representative of Messrs. Newton, Chambers & Co., Sheffield, took leave of his legion of friends to day on the eve of his departure for Europe. Mr. Gibson, during his four years' residence in the Plate, has identified himself with many public works: he erected the gas-works in La Plata and has now completed similar works for the Cooperative Gas-works Company of this city. We wish him a pleasant voyage and hope to welcome him back to these shores before the end of the year.

An evening colleague announces that the Citta di Genova, clearing to-day, takes close on two millions of dollars in Cedulas, which shews that there is still a good market for this stock abroad. The expatriated stock, we believe, is in great part bound for Germany, and the exporters will make a good profit on it, as by selling at 14, which is about the rate in London, with gold at 350, the price comes out at 49 paper, or say four points higher than in this market, being equal to 8 per cent after making deduction for commission, expenses, etc. Now 8 per cent on two million gives 160,000 dols., or say, at the rate of 350 per cent, 45,900 dols. gold net profit on the business, supposing that the Cedulas can be sold in London at the rate quoted.

The Government project for arranging the Cedula difficulty was laid before the Chambers yesterday, though not taken into consideration. We have already given the details of the scheme.

Mr. Gay Hannaford, London secretary of the Paraguayan Development Company, Limited, the agents for which are Messrs. Houlder Brothers & Co., represented by Mr. J. Marriott Woodgate, was welcomed on 'Change to-day. He leaves shortly for the land of oranges.

Shipping agents report that the weakness in freights has not been caused by a plethora of tonnage, but by a scarcity of cargo offering for the moment. The latter is due to the delay in arrival of the lighters from up-rivers with grain, as it is well known that there is plenty of stuff still to go forward. Meantime, steamers ready to clear have naturally to fill up at lower rates, until the market is again replete and competition brisker.

The tide of emigration is rising so steadily that if matters go on as at present it will soon be on a par with the immigration of two years ago. The Perseo, which cleared a few days ago, took away 1,100 passengers, and the s.s. Citta di Genova cleared to-day with another batch of 1,000, which might have been half as large again but for the refusal of the agents to book any more. For the coming week the s.s. Provence is already full up. These emigrants are not, as many suppose, bound for Brazil, but for Genoa and Naples.

By typographical error we quoted in our last issue shares of the Edificadora Company sold at 35. It should have been 85, and even this price shews improvement on previous prices.

The meeting of the Camara Sindical held yesterday to consider some proposals presented by Mr Correa Morales was much commented on in the hall to-day. The proposals in the main embraced the idea of impressing on the Government the necessity of a conciliation policy in the elections, and so arranged that this expression of opinion would be the authorized voice of commercial interests all over the republic. The Chamber, it seems, sympathized with the idea, but did not think the organization of same compatible with its character, and so the matter was left.

by Mr. Orcozon at 11.40 m/n, besides several small lots from Chivilcoy, Lobos, and Saladillo at 11 to 11.30 m/n. All are of the best quality, and have been bought for consumption. In maize, a lot sold by Mr. Orcozon at the splendid price of 8 dollars called much attention, being brown maize from the west, whilst the same consignee has an offer of 8 dollars for another lot placed in the Riachuelo. The weakness of freights and stiffness of gold keep the produce markets alive.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks during the second ring:—

It is said that the Provincial Bank is about to advance its rate of interest.

The directors of the River Plate and General Investment Trust Company (Limited,) in their report for the year ending December 31st, state that the net revenue amounted to £25,402 besides £1,165 brought forward. The trustees recommend further dividends at the rate of 2½ per cent. on the preferred and 2½ per cent on the deferred stocks, making 4½ per cent and 5 per cent respectively for 1890, leaving £2,616 to be carried forward. The sum of £6,386, being profit on realization of securities and commission earned (less income-tax), has been placed to reserve fund, raising it to £11,633. All the investments stand in the company's books at cost price, but their realizable value has, of course, been affected by the recent general depreciation in all classes of securities, especially those connected with South America. The trustees estimate such depreciation at about £39,000, against which has to be set £11,633, the amount at credit of the reserve fund. The trustees, regarding this depreciation as temporary, do not consider it necessary or expedient to let it interfere with the distribution of the current revenue as dividends.

The report current in the market during the past few days that the Government is about to liquidate the Free Banks was the object of general discussion and criticism to-day, which shews that the matter, as we announced, has been taken into serious consideration. The idea of the Minister, at present, which may subsequently be modified or abandoned altogether, is to issue 100,000,000 of Greenbacks, to withdraw the shinplasters, holders of the latter to receive $40 in Greenbacks and $60 in 4½ o/o National bonds for every 100 dollars. By this means the new issue would of course be far more valuable than the present currency. The project has not caused any effect on the market as yet, but if it comes officially the impression produced will soon be made manifest.

The s.s. Buffon, Lamport and Holt line, arrived yesterday in Montevideo with dates to 17th ult. and 2130 tons cargo.
The s.s. Iberia arrived at Rio yesterday from Liverpool, and is expected in Montevideo on 17th, clearing same day for the West Coast.

The splendid s.s. Buenos Airean, of the Allan Line, has arrived at Montevideo from Glasgow and Havre with 1500 tons of cargo for this port.

Reports of Loudon's export trade, says a recent cable dispatch, "go to show that it is not affected by the new United States tariff law. The steamer Richmond Hill, which sailed yesterday for New York, took a general cargo of 3,300 tons, including 200 tons of dried fruits, which are especially protected. The Ludgate Hill sails for New York with a cargo of dried fruits and 500 tons of prunes. The exports of beer, especially of the heavier kinds, have increased."

The Lamport and Holt steamer Phidias, which cleared on the 12th inst. for Liverpool, took the following valuable cargo:—

47,946 bags of wheat
1442 packages of minerals
29 bales of skins
13 boxes of preserved tongues
12 casks of dried tripe
2 horses, 10 pkgs. metal

The Leny, of the same line, cleared yesterday for Antwerp with—

8,050 bags of wheat
10,947 salted hides
1,334 bales of wool
800 pipes and 1200 boxes tallow
30,000 horns
9,200 horn pths
100 rolls of skins

Dr. Arata, Government analyst, announces that the samples of coal from the San Rafael Mine in Mendoza recently discovered have given the best results under analysis. The coal is of course inferior to the English article, but it is far the best yet discovered in this country, and can be used by the gas companies to great advantage.

The arrival is reported in Bahia Blanca of 12 wagons loaded with wool and sheepskins from the Currumalan principality. The s.s. Copernicus, which lies alongside the mole, took a large quantity of wool aboard yesterday.

The movement in the Central Produce Market on Thursday (Feb. 12th) was as follows:—

Arrivals: 40 wagons containing 85,855 kilos wool, 2215 do cowhides, 3,395 do sheepskins, 33 do horsehides, 100 do hair, 18,015 do flax. Total, 109,613 kilos.

The arrivals yesterday (Feb. 13th) were 35 wagons containing 66,912 kilos of wool, 3041 do sheepskins, 971 do cowhides, 21 do horsehides, 70 do various, 14,700 do maize, 35,000 do wheat. Total, 119,715 kilos.

Mr. Eduardo Fernandez sold to day the house Calle Piedad Nos. 2153 to 2167 for 150,000 m/n. The purchaser was Mrs. Mercedes Peña de Ortiz Basualdo. The property formed part of the assets of the firm of H. Schmeil and Co.

Mr. James MacGuire, the well-known estanciero from Suipacha, has purchased the fine new house Calle Arenales 2052 for the sum of 25,000 m/n. This house is very cheap, as it is only lately built and done up in a grand style. The painting of it alone cost a large sum of money. The owner refused 32,000 m/n for it while in course of construction about a year ago.

We hear of the sale of 2000 head of cattle in the partido of Guamini, "al corto," for three dollars each; some large "manadas" of mares at 6.50, and several flocks of sheep at 2.50 to 3 m/n.

The Custom House receipts from Monday next will be recovered at the rate of 330.

The following sailings of ocean steamers are announced for this month:—

Messrs, Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,
I have great pleasure in reporting favorably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully: it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.
I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.
Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.
